

Products

UIComponents Collection v1.3 family

The main goal of UIComponents Collection is a suite of components and controls designet is to facilitate the development of extremely sophisticated and advanced User Interface. The Collection offers a full control of UI development totally at pixel-level, and is designed to make the development of application's User Interface easy, effective and extraordinarily accurate.

UIComponents Collection Lite is the light version of UIComponents Collection. Includes a selection of the most useful controls found in UIComponents Collection. The Lite version allow to build a high-quality interface at a very low price. Suggested for users of Visual Studio 2005 / Framework 2.0.